USEFUL NUMBERS

Costa del Sol traveller contacts for Irish golfers

A practical contact sheet for Irish travellers heading to Malaga and the Costa del Sol. Save it to your phone before you fly. Numbers can change, so check official websites for the latest details.

Emergency first

For any immediate danger in Spain, call 112 first. Operators can route police, ambulance and fire services and English-speaking support is normally available.

- Spain / EU emergency number: 112
- Medical emergency / ambulance: 061
- National Police: 091
- Guardia Civil: 062
- Local Police: 092
- Fire brigade: 080

Irish consular help in Spain

For serious problems such as arrest, hospitalisation, lost passport, death, assault or urgent consular support, contact the Irish Embassy or Department of Foreign Affairs.

- Embassy of Ireland, Madrid emergency line: +34 91 436 4093
- Department of Foreign Affairs Dublin duty officer: +353 1 408 2000
- Honorary Consulate of Ireland, Malaga/Fuengirola: +34 952 475 108
- Honorary Consulates do not usually operate an out-of-hours emergency service.

Airport and airlines

Keep your booking reference handy before calling an airline. For cancelled or delayed flights, contact the airline first; airport information desks cannot usually change airline bookings.

- Malaga-Costa del Sol Airport / AENA information: +34 91 321 1000
- Ryanair Ireland customer support: +353 1 691 7177
- Aer Lingus customer support: +353 1 761 7838
- For live flight disruption, check the airline app and your email/SMS before travelling to the airport.
